

Tips for Applicants Requesting A Letter of Reference

- You can influence the quality of your letters by providing evaluators with the following information:
  - Copy of your transcripts
  - Your resume
  - Copy of your personal statement discussing why you want to be a veterinarian
  - Communicate (e.g. e-mail) when you met, classes you took, challenges and interests you have encountered and overcome
  - Offer to meet with your evaluators to discuss any additional information they may need from you
