DVM EXTERNSHIP

Externships / Internships Available – Walnut Creek, CA; Encina Veterinary Hospital / East Bay Veterinary Specialists & Emergency

This letter is an invitation to visit our practice and consider applying for our internship program, which starts in June 2020. We are a specialty, general practice, and emergency veterinary hospital located in Walnut Creek, CA, and an emergency-only hospital in Antioch, CA. About Us: i. Our hospital has 2 internists, 1 oncologist, 2 dentists, 2 surgeons, 1 criticalist, 6 emergency doctors, 3 GPs, and 9 RVTs. ii. Diagnostic/treatment capabilities: Abdominal ultrasound, color flow/spectral Doppler echocardiography, in-house lab analyzers (blood gases, PT/PTT, chemistry, CBC), electrocardiography, blood pressure, video endoscopy, digital radiography, laparoscopy/thoracoscopy, ventilators, and computed tomography. About the Program: i. Internship program was established in 2004 ii. There are 7 interns per class iii. Our internship consists of a 3-week orientation, followed by thirteen 4-week rotations in internal medicine, surgery, dentistry, general practice, oncology, anesthesia, and emergency medicine. iv. Interns have a lot of primary case responsibility with support by senior clinicians 24/7. v. Interns are given the opportunity to perform abdominal ultrasounds and echocardiograms with mentorship on a regular basis. We feel these are invaluable skills to learn and give our interns the opportunity to do so. vi. We have an intern surgery program, which allows clients with financial constraints to pursue surgery for their pet, and for the interns to do these surgeries with supervision from a veterinary mentor. Examples of intern surgeries are the following: splenectomy, gastrotomy, enterotomy, cystotomy, gastropexy, amputation, enucleation, mass removal, c-section and pyometra. The interns each perform 7-15 surgeries during the year. They also perform spays and neuters during a rotation at a local animal shelter and other minor procedures and surgeries while working with our general practitioners and specialists. Email christina.sutu@capna.com
